

Appendix C: Survey Questions

Figure C1. Consequentiality Question from Online Survey

The image shows a screenshot of an online survey interface. At the top, there is a dark blue header with the ADVANIS logo. Below the header, the survey title "Water Management in Cities and Towns" is displayed. The main question is: "To what extent do you believe that the voting results collected from you and other survey respondents will be taken into consideration by provincial policy makers?". A horizontal scale with five radio buttons is provided, ranging from "1 Not taken into account" to "5 Definitely taken into account". At the bottom of the scale, there are "Previous" and "Next" navigation buttons.

ADVANIS

Water Management in Cities and Towns

To what extent do you believe that the voting results collected from you and other survey respondents will be taken into consideration by provincial policy makers?

Not taken into account Definitely taken into account

1 2 3 4 5

◀ Previous Next ▶

Figure C2. Valuation Question Example from Online Survey

ADVANIS

Water Management in Cities and Towns

Please examine the options below and indicate which option you would vote for.

	Current situation	Proposed program
Annual number of boil water advisories in small communities with less than 500 residents	50	15
Annual number of boil water advisories in medium-sized communities with between 500 and 50,000 residents	4	1
Annual number of boil water advisories in large communities with more than 50,000 residents	1	1
Method used to improve reliability	Current system	Drinking water treatment system
Cost of the program (starting in January 2015)	$0	100 per year increase in your provincial income tax for 10 years

Which option would you vote for?

◀ Previous Next ▶