
Contents

Acknowledgments	IX
Foreword: The Short Course for Bringing Slavery into the Classroom in Ten Not-So-Easy Pieces	XI
IRA BERLIN
Introduction	3
BETHANY JAY and CYNTHIA LYNN LYERLY
Part One: Slavery and the Classroom
Methods for Teaching Slavery to High School Students and College Undergraduates in the United States	9
JAMES W. LOEWEN
Dealing with Things as They Are: Creating a Classroom Environment for Teaching Slavery and Its Lingering Impact	31
STEVEN THURSTON OLIVER
Part Two: Teaching Specific Content
Teaching the Origins of Slavery in the Americas	43
ERIC KIMBALL
Slavery in the New Nation: Human Bondage in the Land of Liberty	59
PAUL FINKELMAN
Blood-Stained Mirrors: Decoding the American Slave-Trading Past	77
SOWANDE' MUSTAKEEM

Contents

Slavery and the Northern Economy CHRISTY CLARK-PUJARA	96
Northern Slavery and Its Legacies: Still a New (and Unwelcome?) Story JOANNE POPE MELISH	115
Slave Resistance KENNETH S. GREENBERG	133
Slave Culture BERNARD E. POWERS JR.	144
The Diverse Experiences of the Enslaved DEIRDRE COOPER OWENS	157
Slavery and the Civil War BETHANY JAY	167
Comparative Slavery LAIRD W. BERGAD	180
The Challenge of Slavery since Emancipation: From 1865 to the Twenty-First Century JAMES BREWER STEWART	196
Part Three: Sources and Strategies for Teaching Slavery
Using the WPA Slave Narratives in the Classroom CYNTHIA LYNN LYERLY	207
Teaching the History of Slavery through Film RON BRILEY	216
Art and Slavery RAY WILLIAMS	233

Contents

In the Footsteps of Others: Understanding Slavery through Process Drama	248
LINDSAY ANNE RANDALL
“A Likely Negro”: Using Runaway-Slave Advertisements to Teach Slavery	263
ANTONIO T. BLY
Teaching the History of Slavery and Its Legacy through Historical Archaeology: Project Archaeology	283
SARAH E. MILLER, JAMES M. DAVIDSON, and EMILY PALMER
Contributors	297
Index	303